
AXA Equitable releases latest "Retirement Reality Show"

By Editor Test Wed, Mar 2, 2011

"In Doubt We Trust?" extends the company's video series exploring the attitudes of Americans as they prepare for and live through retirement.

As part of an ongoing effort to engage the public online at a webpage called The Source, AXA Equitable has released a new video, "In Doubt We Trust?," in which Chicagoans share their skepticism of and suggestions for the financial system. The interviews are juxtaposed with recent changes in the Chicago Booth/Kellogg School Financial Trust Index.

"In Doubt We Trust?" extends the company's "Retirement Reality Show" video series exploring the attitudes, behaviors and experiences of Americans as they prepare for and live through retirement.

To access "In Doubt We Trust?" and its accompanying online "Financial Trust Survey," go to The Source @ AXA Equitable, a multi-media Web room that provides information and hopefully inspiration on a wide array of financial protection and retirement planning topics.

Previous episodes in AXA Equitable's "Retirement Reality Show" series include:

Series Premiere: "Is Retirement a Shore Thing? Wall Street Hope Meets Boardwalk Reality"

Episode Two: "A Garden State of Mind: Expecting the Unexpected?"

Episode Three: "Protecting Retirement - Not a Walk in the Park"

Episode Four: "In the Long Run"

© 2011 RIJ Publishing LLC. All rights reserved.