Cue the Traveling Music...

By Editor Test Tue, Aug 24, 2010

... Because the fall conference season is about to begin. It starts after school opens and ends by Thanksgiving.

Many of the major investment-oriented trade associations hold their annual conferences between mid-September and mid-November. Here's a list of conferences that might interest you, including links to the relevant websites:

NAIFA (National Association of Insurance and Financial Advisors) Career Conference and Annual Meeting

Sheraton Seattle/Washington State Convention and Trade Center, Seattle, WA

September 11-14, 2010

NAPFA (National Association of Personal Financial Advisors (NAPFA)

Practice Management and Investments Conference

Manchester Grand Hyatt, San Diego, CA

September 22-24, 2010

Retirement Income Industry Association Annual Meeting

Hyatt Harborside, Boston, MA

October 4-5, 2010

Center for Due Diligence

2010 Advisors Conference

Fairmont Chicago-Millenium Park, Chicago, Illinois

October 6-8, 2010

Financial Planning Association Annual Conference

Colorado Convention Center, Denver, CO

October 9-12, 2010

Society of Actuaries Annual Meeting

Hilton New York–New York, NY

October 17-20, 2010

LIMRA Annual Conference 2010

Gaylord National Hotel and Conference Center, Washington, DC

October 24-26, 2010

Insured Retirement Institute Annual Meeting

Westin Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois

October 24-26, 2010

National Association of Fixed Annuities IMO Summit

Hotel Sorella-CityCentre, Houston, Texas

October 27-28, 2010

Society of Actuaries

Equity-Based Insurance Guarantees Conference

Marriott Marquis, New York, NY

November 1-2, 2010

NAPFA Connections Conference

Sheraton Boston, Boston, MA

November 3-5, 2010

Third Annual Retirement Income Symposium

Embassy Suites Chicago Lakefront, Chicago, Illinois

November 8-9, 2010

NAILBA (National Association of Independent Life Brokerage Agencies) Annual Meeting

Gaylord Texan Resort and Convention Center, Grapevine, Texas

November 18-20, 2010