“We completed over $4 billion of long-term debt and equity issues during the year, significantly adding to our financial strength and flexibility,” said Prudential chairman and CEO John Strangfeld.

“In December, we sold our stake in the Wachovia Securities joint venture for $4.5 billion of cash proceeds. With this transaction we realized a substantial return on our investment, which had an initial book value of $1.0 billion in 2003,” he added.

The Individual Annuities segment reported adjusted operating income of $88 million in the current quarter, compared to a loss of $1.04 billion in the year-ago quarter. Current quarter results benefited $47 million from net reductions in reserves for guaranteed minimum death and income benefits and $32 million from a net reduction in amortization of deferred policy acquisition and other costs, reflecting an updated estimate of profitability for this business. These benefits to results were largely driven by increases in customer account values during the current quarter.
