

Quote of the Week

By Editorial Staff Thu, Jul 28, 2016

"In choosing between various political parties and programs for the commonwealth's social and economic organization most people are uninformed and groping in the dark. The average voter lacks the insight to distinguish between policies suitable to attain the ends he is aiming at and those unsuitable." - Ludwig von Mises, "Profit and Loss."
